- One great defect of our civilization is that it does not know what to do with its knowledge. Science, as we have seen, has given us powers fit for the gods, yet we use them like small children. For example, we do not know how to manage our machines. Machines were made to be man's servants; yet he has grown so dependent on them that they are in a fair way to become his masters. Already most men spend most of their lives looking after and waiting upon machines. And the machines are very stern masters. They must be fed with coal, and given petrol to drink, and oil to wash with, and must be kept at the right temperature. And it they do not get their meals when they expect them, they grow sulky and refuse to work, or burst with rage, and blow up, and spread rain and destruction all round them. So we have to wait upon them very attentively and do all that we can to keep them in a good temper. Already we find it difficult either to work or play without the machines, and a time may come when they will rule as altogether, just as we rule the animals.

- Habits are either good or bad. Even good habits, if given free play, may turn into bad ones. For example, reading is a good habit. It helps in acquiring knowledge, in meaningful use of leisure time and healthy entertainment. But excess of reading books, magazines etc. is harmful. It would soon tell upon one's health, resources, mental fitness and capacity to earn. Balance is the golden rule. That is why it is said, "Excess of everything is bad." Nothing too much, not even good things and habits.

- આપણા દેશ પ્રત્યે આપણું શું કર્તવ્ય છે? આજ્ઞાપાલન અને શિસ્ત એ બે એવા ગુણ છે કે જે કોઈપણ રાષ્ટ્રને મહાન બનાવે. જે પ્રજામાં આજ્ઞાપાલન અને શિસ્ત ન હોય તે મહાન રાષ્ટ્ર બની શકે નહીં. કાયદાનું પાલન કરવું એટલું જ આપણું કર્તવ્ય નથી, પરંતુ દેશમાં કાયદો અને વ્યવસ્થા જાળવવામાં સરકારને મદદ કરવી તે પણ આપણું કર્તવ્ય છે. આપણે અમુક કાયદાઓ પસંદ ન હોય તો પણ આપણે સરકારને ઉતારી પાડવી ન જોઈએ. આપણે એવું પગલું ન ભરવું જોઈએ કે જે દેશનાં હિતને હાનિકારક નીવડે.
