Thousands of years ago, King Shantanu ruled over the kingdom of Hastinapur. One day, Shantanu went on a hunting trip. Searching for a game, he reached the Bank of the river Ganga. As he stood there, he spotted a beautiful maiden. Captivated by her beauty, he said, "O beautiful lady! I am Shantanu, the king of Hastinapur. May I know who you are? I wish to make you my queen and I am prepared to give you all my wealth and riches. Will you marry me?"

The beautiful maiden smiled gently and said, "O King! I am Ganga. I will marry you, but you will have to agree to my condition."

Ganga said, "You will never ask me who I am or from where I come. Whether you like it or not, you will never stop me from doing whatever I wish. Besides, you will never get angry with me or make me unhappy. The moment you fail to fulfil even one of my condition, I will leave you and go away."
